

NAME

SlovakianVideo2.mp4

DATE

March 14, 2025

DURATION

9m 41s

START OF TRANSCRIPT

(Transcribed by Sonix.ai)[00:00:00] Speaker1

I made a commitment to the government that by 31.3. 2025, I will carry out an analysis of the reference batches of vaccines used for the Slovak population against Cover 19, thus fulfilling my commitment. I will fully present the process, progress and results to the Government. I am ready to meet the deadline by 31.3. 2025 according to the terms of reference, because of the seriousness of the preliminary results and because of the suspicion of obstruction to carry out and present these analyses, I have decided to do so mainly for security reasons. For this press release, in the interest of protecting the health of the Slovak population, I publicly call on Attorney General Maroš Žilinka to act on the matter without delay. I ask that this information be thoroughly investigated in the short term and that it be ensured that those elements of the State responsible for downplaying it and concealing objective facts are not involved in its investigation. I am also willing to explain the whole issue to the President and I publicly ask and urge him to stop disparaging the work of the Government Plenipotentiary. He stopped talking about nano chips and did not comment on a topic he did not understand. My primary duty is to uphold the Constitution, and as a physician I have both the duty and the right to protect the health of Slovak citizens. Yesterday I also informed the Secretary of Health and Human Services in the United States, Mr. Robert Kennedy Jr., by letter, who confirmed the admission. Also briefed were the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Cash P, and Pamela Bondi, the former U.S. Attorney General. Furthermore, several ministries of health, some selected countries and representatives of the world scientific community have warned of, or at least anticipated, some similar risks. I must confirm that many are waiting for my official report so that individual states can turn their attention to carrying out their own analyses. The 34 batches from Pfizer and Moderna up to this time that were stored according to the correct cold chain and only those that were used for the Slovak population at the time of the Cold XIX epidemic were analyzed.

[00:02:39] Speaker1

Today I will present the most important result of the analysis. My assumption that a small amount of DNA is also present in the vaccines as contamination that was produced during the manufacturing process has not been confirmed. I apologize for that. In terms of guaranteeing content, both Moderna and Pfizer state that only mRNA + some other components are present. This would be relatively okay if it hadn't already been conclusively proven that the product of the mRNA vaccine is a toxic, classic cardio toxic protein whose pathways of pathological action I have submitted in the form of a 150 page proof of concept paper to the government. I will also prepare a press release to advise Mr. Palkovich or the head of the Health Care Oversight Authority how their feet will detect by 100 chemical methods the presence of the SS protein synthesized by the program from the MRI to the vaccine from the nucleotides of the protein of the SARS virus, C2, and thus determine the primary cause of death. Result of the analysis. Dear public and scientific community. The results of the analysis of all, I repeat all the batches analyzed proved that in every single ampoule there is an enormously high amount of DNA vector, which encodes the cassette for protein synthesis, if not other proteins almost in the same amount as mRNA is there, therefore DNA is there as well. In three cases, the DNA content is even higher than the mRNA. It can no longer even be considered a vaccine measured on the principle of mRNA. This genetic code for protein synthesis, this information stored in DNA is stable compared to mRNA. It can integrate into human nuclear DNA and then such a human organism becomes, I am not afraid to say officially, a genetically modified organism. A genetically modified organism is an organism whose genetic material has been deliberately altered. This is done, for example, on corn and in medicine.

[00:05:05] Speaker1

It's in the research stage. So this is not about any contamination of vaccines, it is on purpose. A vast amount of genetic material that can transiently transform human nuclear DNA transparently, and this transaction can become stable and permanent. This transaction may with a sufficiently high probability influence tumor activity. They are tumor, they are spatial genes and cause tumor formation in cells that do not divide for example myocardium. Nerve cells cause such programming to oversensitize protons, the synthetic apparatus of the cell, and the cell perishes. It is possible that there are other commands in this DNA, which is assumed by the results of the analysis, the presence of which needs to be proven, but I believe that this will be done by other states in their jurisdiction. It is therefore a mixture of mRNA and DNA or in some cases a mixture of DNA and mRNA. The threat is a stable transaction. Incorporation into human DNA with sustained trans gene expression, the development of cancer or cell death by overexpression of the Proteus synthetic apparatus of the cell, to put it humanly, if unkindly. The modern A Fischer made vaccinated people into genetically modified organisms by treating them like corn without their knowledge. High DNA content on this scale is absolutely scandalous and the use of these preparations in our population should be banned immediately. These findings are so serious that the Attorney General should act immediately. The scientific community should be on high alert and all vaccine promoters should pull their ears off. To put it modestly but sovereignly, we are one of the few countries in the world, if not the only one, that has carried out such analyses and makes them public. Let's do something big and include ourselves among the examples. These company-guaranteed vaccine content components could be used to their full potential in lawsuits against pharmaceutical companies. They could also be used by the Supreme Audit Office and other branches of government for the purpose of developing a procedure for refusing to pay the amount ordered for the quantity of vaccines ordered by 2026.

[00:07:32] Speaker1

We ordered a small passenger car and they delivered us a big battle tank. The other components of vaccines, although essential, are less serious. They will be part of the official report to the Government of the Slovak Republic. The full responsibility for the release of this toxic content into human beings, and especially our children, lies with the SPCA, which did not even bother to carry out safety sovereign analyses because it obediently relied on Emma's barking. In the same way that a drunken Sheliga leaned against the wall of a pub at the time of the Lock Down when we were all locked up at home, I have absolutely no confidence in the structures of this state that are responsible for this scandal. I can't imagine that those responsible will admit their mistake and do everything they can to discredit these results. That's why I took a few precautions. This is an absolute mega-scandal and the Slovak Republic was the first to draw official attention to it at the level of the Government Plenipotentiary. The people, and of them, and of them many patients today, have every right to know why they have been given gene therapy to force the body to produce a toxin. They have every right to claim compensation if the result of the analysis is as follows. Slovaks. We are not corn. I wonder if there is mention in the informed consents that the patient is to undergo experimental gene therapy. I don't even know if I actually thank you for your attention because of all the media. It is your duty to inform the public of such serious findings. I think that is quite sufficient to unleash further analysis within the competence of informed states. It is an absolute scandal that disregards the knowledge of science and the rights of man. The integrity of the Slovak gene pool has been compromised. Thank you for your attention.

END OF TRANSCRIPT

Automated transcription by Sonix
www.sonix.ai